You, if you've noticed are one of the few I like to talk to. I sensed a real pleasant personality one with I'd like to know better, outside of a weight lifting class. Even though I dont know you well, its a pleasure to fill some space in your book with all of your really good friends. I consider myself one now

Guess what I did over the summer. I got a job at Chico Hot Springs in Pray, Montana. There we had a swimming pool and hot springs right outside our door. The other employees were a great bunch of people. I have another year to go before I graduate and don't know what I'll do yet. I'm thinking about getting into the computer programming field. Enjoy life while you're still young.

Love ya

A FRESHMAN'S VIEW OF MOON VALLEY HIGH

I came to school the very first day,
Hoping to make a friend.
Students and faculty had frightened me away,
And began to make their bend.

Students were found roaming the campus,
Engulfing hallways in a mass.
As education was a must,
Students hurried to get to class.

Class was ready to start,
As students waited with patience.
The teacher began to dart,
With rules and regulations.

Today's knowledge came to a close,
With time striding by.
Students eagerly arose,
As the bell began to die.

The year carried on,
As sports and clubs took their place.
Graduates will soon be gone,
Striving to keep their pace.

For me it seems so simple yet,
I'm tested every day.
But knowledge and understanding I'll bet,
Is what I should display.

The graduates have all said good-bye,
For next it will be ours.
Then I'll say so long to Moon Valley High,
After three more years of long hard hours.

Friends

A shoulder to cry on,
A heart to mend,
Someone to trust,
That is a friend.

Party together,
That is the thing,
Bumming around,
Is the new fling,

Share the dreams,
We all search for,
Even the little ones,
Mean much more.

To make a fuss,
Of a falling tear,
Friends are usually,
So sincere.

Growing together,
To love and care,
Remember friends,
They're always there.

The Varsity Boy's and Girl's Cross Country Teams appear to be the strongest ever in Moon Valley History. Through their hard work and dedication, both teams have compiled the best win-loss record and have been rated among the States top teams. The Girls have only lost one dual meet. The Divisional Championships should prove the Boy's and Girl's teams as strong contenders.

SOPHOMORES

Cindy,
How original! Me a sophomore, signing on the sophomore page. I really hate to write the same old stuff people always write in yearbooks. But I really do mean it. I'm a real sweet person. I'm super glad I got to meet you this year. Even if it was in dumb-shit Hudson's classes. I hope to see ya next year, if all that Senior stuff don't go to your head. Take care over the Summer and R.I.T. 863-3056. Have a really radical summer!
Luv ya,
Sheryl

THE LITTLE TOWN OF ANATEVKA

One of the longest running Broadway musicals, FIDDLER ON THE ROOF was proudly performed by the Moon Valley Theatre and Music Departments. When the curtain raised, the turn of the century town of Anatevka, Russia came to life. The story of Tevrye, the dairyman, his wife, Golde, and their five daughters unfolded through colorful dances and enjoyable songs. The talkative neighborhood matchmaker, Yente, and a ten foot tall ghost, Fruma Sarah, added a delightful touch of humor to the tense conflict between the Russian Jews and the Tzarist Government.

COOPERATIVE OFFICE EDUCATION

C.O.E., is a work program designed to give students a head start in the business world. It also gives them a sense of responsibility towards society.

This year the C.O.E. members participated in the Gomper's Carnival and a canned food drive to aid the community. We also had several social activities which were funded totally by fund raising efforts. This year we raised money by selling gym bags and crystal jewelry. The profits helped pay for the annual employer-employee banquet in May and an end of the year trip to California.

We, the 1982 Moon Valley C.O.E. members, wish to thank our coordinators, Mary Pat Garry and Patti Marsh, for all their patience and hard work. Good luck to the 1983 C.O.E. students.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

My thoughts about the U.S.A. August 22nd, 1981. What a day! Finally! My arrival in the United States. "Aren't you afraid!" was the question I heard mostly. Buy why should I be? I was super in English back home and people told me American schools were "cupcakes." And with this super vision I started on September 29th at Moon Valley. I already had had enough time to figure out that my English wasn't even close to being excellent but now I had to find out school wasn't that easy either. I was down. I wanted to go home badly, but because of the help from friends, teachers, and counselors I finally solved these problems and started enjoying being an "American" "teenager". Thanks to everybody it was quite an experience to share your school, life style and country with you.

Moon Valley and Arizona have been a great experience for me. I will never forget the people and the atmosphere of this school. My friends and teachers made me feel really happy among them, especially Mr. Boyle. They showed me that Americans are helpful, very open and spontaneous. When I go to Spain I shall attend school for two more years. Also, the education system is very different from the one I had here. Over there we are required to take each year the subjects they give us. I also enjoyed Phoenix a lot. It is a quiet, funny and very unique town compared to the huge Madrid where I live. My family took me to many places. I loved Las Vegas, the Grand Canyon and the whole valley.

Sis: I love you!! Always Remember that!

YESTERDAY, TODAY AND TOMORROW

Remember Back in San Diego...

Yesterday I woke to the sounds of laughter and joy,
The playground fights, the mud pie delights,
Playing dress-up in mom and dad's rags, the games of tag,
The toy trains, the episodes of Dick and Jane,
All this made up my yesterday.

my first year at wilson... oh! what a year!

Today I wake to the sound of my alarm,
The morning rush, the noise on the bus,
Friends in the halls, hour long phone calls,
Basketball games, broken window panes,
One o'clock nights, silly little fights, Graduation gowns, detectable frowns,
All this made up my today.

Today, this is present time! Phoenix, Arizona 1982

Tomorrow, so I hear, the weather is supposed to be clear,
But that's all I know of
I'm so unsure, so insecure,
There is much to fear, it's all so unclear,
If I can share my tomorrow with you, my friend,
I know it will become a day I'd never want to end.

this is for always! where would I be without you Sis?!

My friend, I need you in my tomorrow,
Just like I needed you in my yesterday and today.

I need you my friend to help make my tomorrow,
Yesterday, today, tomorrow, I need you my friend.

Kelly Miner

Someday your gonna find the right guy for yourself! Wether its RON, or whoever! Im lucky, she already found my guy! Take your time! Make sure you know theres really "love" there because I never want to see you hurt! As for Mike, go for it kid! Ask him out you CAN do it! its really easy! Go for the Gusto! (OR in this case the MACHO!) may all your dreams in life come true keep reaching for the Stars!

I love you!! your little Sis

Michele

Cindy —

Well here it is the end of another year! I still can't believe we made it! Just think, next year you'll be a big, fat, snobby SENIOR, that looks down on all us "underclassmen" and sheds a tear while saying . . . "HA-HA-ON-YOU!" NO seriously, its been a fun-filled year with much laughter and yet just as many tears! I know it seems like well never "actually" grow-up but we will and then well look back at some of the things we did this year (or whenever) and laugh. I be glad we had the parents we have to guide us through I know right now that seems impossible but I guess if we do way things have been lately but I guess if we do be in mom and dads shoes "MAYBE!" and then thing! They always say "its not easy being a parent" well say "Hey! its not a bed of roses being a teenager either!!" Oh man how ugly this silly life is! Maybe in some day and age (probably when WERE 40-45) mom and dad will understand us, and we them! BUT!! DONT MARK MY WORD! Sis, have a great Senior year and do us all a favor a stay out of trouble, but still have fun! (Does that makes sense? Remember your little sister when you graduate, because I'll be right there cheerin you on like I have been for the last 15 years!

HIGH SCHOOL YEARS

The high school years have gone by fast,
The memories in our minds will forever last.
We have cried and laughed with our friends and foes,
Where it has gone to no one knows.
The time has come to say goodbye,
The fun-filled years of Moon Valley High.

Kris Cammarata

Some will leave with smiles,
Some will leave with tears,
Some will leave as nervous wrecks,
With anxiousness and fears,
But all will leave with memories,
Of good times from the past,
In hopes that all the years to come,
Won't leave them quite as fast.

Jill Kathrins

Cindy,
I'm real glad to have met you this year. You are very nice girl and I really hope to see you in the summer. Have a good time next year too. (I know I did).
Take care, Love, Mary Rodriguez

In teeming numbers beyond tally,
We cross the threshold of Moon Valley.
Day and night we advance our education,
Silently awaiting that day of graduation.
At the beginning schools seemed an endless song.
And lazy summers seem to hurriedly pass along.
Then finally its that needed graduation day ,
And we reflect upon our bygone high school days.
Where went the dream, the moments to remember,
That began so many years ago in late September.

Adish Singh

Dear Cindy,
Well it's been a great year (cough cough!) aren't you glad your not the only one who doesn't know one word said in Geometry! But I dropped it & you didn't (but you should've).
